COMPANY PROFILE

Medical Lifesigns is a privately owned company based in the UK. We specialise in Health & Safety training including, First Aid, Defibrillation, Airway Management, fire safety awareness, COSHH training, expedition medicine and medical event cover.

Our reputation within commerce and industry has grown considerably due to the high level of service and support we are able to provide to our clients, as well as the rates of our courses.

All our instructors are HSE approved and are regularly monitored to ensure that our candidate pass rate remains 99%.

OUR MAIN ASSET IS OUR CUSTOMERS

Through client feedback, we are able to tailor courses to the individual's needs. We work the days or hours which are convenient for you, on-site or at a suitable local venue.

WHY FIRST AID?

People at work can suffer injuries or fall ill. It doesn't matter whether the injury or illness is caused by the work they do or not. What is important is that they receive immediate attention and that an ambulance is called in serious cases. First Aid at Work covers the arrangements you must make to ensure this happens. It can save lives and prevent minor injuries becoming major ones.

WHAT IS AN APPOINTED PERSON?

An appointed person is someone you choose to:

- Take charge when someone is injured or falls ill, including calling for an ambulance if required;
- Look after the First Aid equipment, e.g. restocking the First Aid box.
- Appointed persons should not attempt to give First Aid, for which they have not been trained, though short emergency First Aid training courses are available.
- An appointed person should be available at all times while people are at work on site - this may mean appointing more than one person.

WHAT IS A FIRST AIDER?

A First Aider is someone who has undergone a training course in First Aid at Work or Emergency First Aid at Work and holds a valid certificate. The training has to be approved by HSE. A first Aider can undertake the duties of an appointed person.
